Exclusive : the SADECC will take place from 1 to 4 October 2021

Initially scheduled for April 2021, the SADECC was postponed to June due to the evolution of the health crisis in France. At the beginning of the year, the still worrying situation and the lack of visibility, both for visitors and exhibitors, logically forced the organisers to postpone the event once again. It is now official: SADECC will take place from 1 to 4 October 2021 at the Paris Porte de Versailles Exhibition Centre. The big news is that it will leave Hall 7.1 to move to the ultra-contemporary Hall 6, which will be inaugurated in November 2019. By validating these dates, the organising team led by Eglantyne Verriès has ensured that the SADECC will be the first major event for the kitchen industry to be held in France since the crisis emerged. Already a must-attend event, the SADECC, the only French trade show entirely dedicated to the world of the fitted kitchen, will take on a whole new symbolic meaning with these dates.

Under the theme, «Furnish your future», the SADECC will bring together for four days the main players in the market and thousands of professional visitors in a friendly spirit, without forgetting the health safety that will still be necessary and legitimate. Professionals will discover (at last!) all the new products from all sectors (furniture, household appliances, equipment and accessories, dressing rooms, bathrooms, software, services...) to rethink their consumer offer but also to develop their professional activity in order to respond to the new market challenges. They will also benefit from numerous events which we will be unveiling shortly.

«We are delighted to be able to organise SADECC from 1 to 4 October 2021 in the brand new Hall 6 of the Paris Porte de Versailles Exhibition Centre. The decision to postpone the show once again from June to October was not an easy one. But for us, the priority is to offer the best possible reception conditions to our exhibitors and visitors. October will therefore be the ideal time. The SADECC will be the first major national event for the kitchen industry since the crisis emerged. We are preparing a programme of events that is both festive and studious, which will be unveiled in detail very soon,» says Eglantyne Verriès, director of SADECC.
